WHO I AM

A driven student & emerging professional

I'm a Business Analytics and Information Technology student at Rutgers Business School, building the technical and analytical foundation needed to thrive in today's data-driven business world.

My background blends academic rigor with real-world experience. While studying supply chain, financial accounting, and marketing, I've also spent years on the front lines of customer service — learning to communicate clearly, solve problems under pressure, and keep people happy.

I'm excited about leveraging technology and data to make smarter business decisions, and always looking for new opportunities to grow, collaborate, and contribute.
